Most of the work that HarborTown does involves homes along the lake shore. Clients know they can count on Grill and her partners not only for quality service, but also for creative solutions that ensure every interior is a one-of-a-kind.

Their 2,400-square-foot showroom is a wonderland of fabulously fun home furnishing: eclectic home accessories, furniture and gifts. A one-stop shop, they handle everything from interior design to upholstery, lighting lamps, art, accessories, furniture window coverings and more.

Besides being an authorized dealer for Norwalk, Harden and Company C, HarborTown carries Vanguard, Four Seasons, Wesley Hall, Comfort Design, Fjords, Braxton Culler, Stanley, Lexington, Four Hands, Dovetail, Halo Designs and Paula Deen by Universal. Rug lines include Company C, Dash & Albert, Surya, Japur, Loloï, Classic Home and Chandra.

"We can get the usual things, but we also carry and find things you don't get everywhere," Grill said. "We shop all over and have long-standing relationships with many vendors and manufacturers."

Whimsical lake shore looks are as prominent as reclaimed wood pieces reminiscent of Restoration Hardware. Grill and her partners have an eye for the unique, and shoppers are as likely to encounter a collection of old life preservers as fantastic rugs, pillows and a headboard made from oars.

"It's what we love to do," Grill said. "We help clients think it through to make sure the function is there, as well as the look so that they can truly enjoy their surroundings."

"We help them express themselves, so it doesn't look just like everybody else's house."
